

Reflections of the Formless

This collection of 80 poems are the ecstatic journey towards the realisation of the Formless and the changes that occur thereafter. It deals not only with the mystical but even day to day events like falling in love, being mindful of ones diet, the political atmphere and dealing with the loss of a loved one. Each poem stands on its own and also collectively shines together and this is what makes this book a beautiful collection. From the Tavern of Hafiz, to the Dervish of Rumi, to the Mystery School of Kabir, you feel the directness and awareness of poetry can still bring transformation in this wonderful collection. The beauty of this book is that it doesnt matter who or what your believe in, if you are an atheist or agnostic, these poems are of a universal appeal. It asks the reader to be open-minded so we can explore consciousness with a heartfelt discussion. It is not about fancy words or fancy logic but about meeting minds to create a harmonious relationship with each other.
