Excerpt from The Founding of a Nation, Vol. 1: The Story of the Pilgrim Fathers, Their Voyage on the Mayflower, Their Early Struggles, Hardships and Dangers, and the Beginnings of American Democracy, as Told in the Journals of Francis Beaumont, Cavalier This story is a narrative-history of the Pilgrims of Plymouth. Though not entirely in accordance with popular traditions, which in many instances are erroneous, it is in accordance with historical facts. To thoroughly understand the historical setting, it is essential that one discriminates between the Pilgrims and the Puritans, often confounded in the popular mind as being one and the same, when as a matter of fact they were entirely different. To properly interpret these differences one must understand that the colonists of the Mayflower were Englishmen of the period of 1608. Whilst the Puritans of the Massachusetts Bay colony (Salem and Boston) were Englishmen of the period of 1628. The name Pilgrims was given to the Plymouth colonists by Governor William Bradford, who was a passenger on the Mayflower. The name Puritans was applied to the church and state reformers of all classes in England in the early part of the seventeenth century by the supporters of the court and king. When the Pilgrims fled from England to Holland in 1608, the Stuart dynasty had not fully developed its despotic theory of the divine right of kings. The commoners at this period were still loyal. The Pilgrims, themselves, attributed their persecutions to the bishops of the established church and not to the king.
