

Writ in Barracks

WAR I A tent that is pitched at the base: A wagon that comes from the night: A stretcher and on it a Case: A surgeon, who's holding a light. The Infantry's bearing the brunt O hark to the wind-carried cheer! A mutter of guns at the front: A whimper of sobs at the rear. And its War! Orderly, hold the light. You can lay him down on the table: so. Easily gently! Thank you may go. And its War! but the part that is not for show. II A tent, with a table athwart, A table that's laid out for one; A waterproof cover and nought But the limp, mangled work of a gun. A bottle that's stuck by the pole, A guttering dip in its neck; The flickering light of a soul On the wondering eyes of The Wreck, And its War! Orderly, hold his hand. I'm not going to hurt you, so don't be afraid. A ricochet! God! what a mess it has made! And its War! and a very unhealthy trade. III The clink of a stopper and glass: A sigh as the chloroform drips: A trickle of what? on the grass, And bluer and bluer the lips. The lashes have hidden the stare.... A rent, and the clothes fall away.... A touch, and the wound is laid bare.... A cut, and the face has turned grey.... And its War! Orderly, take It out. It's hard for his child, and it's rough on his wife, There might have been sooner a chance for his life. But its War! And Orderly, clean this knife!
